

Human Rights

Anti-racism Measures – Track Record & Campaign Promises

Supports funding anti-racism measures and created several new initiatives around the issue in Budget 2019. The party currently does not have a published 2019 platform on the topic. Budget 2018 provided more than $19 million over 5 years as a first step towards recognizing the significant and unique challenges faced by Black Canadians. Budget 2019 proposes to provide $45 million over 3 years, starting in 2019/20, to support a new Anti-Racism Strategy. Plans to introduce a new digital charter to combat hate speech, misinformation, and online electoral interference.	Has no proposed or specific anti-racist measures. And actions of individual Senators, Members of Parliament, and people in senior roles in campaigns are worrying. No specific anti-racism legislation has been proposed recently, though its campaign website refers to unity in diversity.	Supports anti-racism measures and has several items in its platform devoted to ending racism. Will convene a national working group to counter online hate and protect public safety. Will make sure that social media platforms are responsible for removing hateful and extremist content. Will ban carding by federal law enforcement and will work with local partners across Canada to end this practice in all jurisdictions across the country. Will conduct a comprehensive review of the existing employment-equity regime to help close the racialized wage gap. Will strengthen labour laws and ensure diverse and equitable hiring within the federal public service, and in federally regulated industries. Will work with the provinces and territories to develop and enforce effective employment-equity legislation, and to collect and analyze data on the racialization of poverty.	Supports anti-racism measures in various areas of its platform, but doesn't have a section dedicated specifically to anti-racism measures. No specific anti-racism legislation proposed, but may introduce initiatives in criminal justice reform and anti-poverty measures to correct the racialized nature of the issues.